KIKU'S STORY A BARE ROMANCE

Liberty Not Restrained by Mrs. Judge.

Japanese Maiden Was Not Employed at Judga Home When She Got Writ.

Denies at First She Wrote Letter, but Afterward Admits Its Authorship

HE habeas corpus proceedings filed against Mrs. Mary Judge by H. K. Imai in hebalf of his country woman, Kiku Katsuura, were heard in the District court before Judge Lewis yesterday morning.

The case was one of the most peculiar which ever came up in this city, and the ridiculous and self-contradictory state ments made by the star witnesses frequently set the spectators roaring, and ven caused the stern face of the Judge to brighten up with a momentary smile The attorneys also had their share of the fun, and were no sooner out of one ridiculous situation than they found themselves more deeply lodged in an-

Not Restrained of Liberty.

Attorney Frank Pierce opened the ase for the defendant and declared emphatically that Kiku was not being restrained from enjoying her liberties by Mrs. Judge. He also informed the cour that the Japanese maiden was not now and had not for some time been with Mrs. Judge, but was at the home of Mrs.

At the request of Attorney Arthur E Christensen, who drew up the petition at the request of H. K. Imai, a fellow countryman of Kiku, asked that an in-terpreter be sworn and that the girl be placed on the stand. As Attor-ney Pierce also wanted an interpreter ney Pierce also wanted an interpreter the court settled the matter by having one sworn for each side. N. S. Hashimoto was sworn as interpreter for the respondent, while E. D. Hashmoto was sworn to interpret for the petitioner. Kiku, in her gay garb, then took the stand, and with this commenced the fun.

Not Living at Judge Home.

Kiku first gave her name, and upon being questioned replied that she was 21. Attorney Christensen then asked where she was living now. A long conversation followed between the witness and interpreter No. 1, and the court was finally informed that she was now living and had been living with Mrs. W. M. O'Brien since June 7. Thereupon Attorney Christensen showed the girl a letter, which Imal claimed to have received from her asking him to help her in her fight for liberty. Kiku denied that the hieroglyphics found at the fotthat the hieroglyphics found at the fol-tom of the page made her name, and ab-solutely denied its authorship. How-ever she finally admitted that she bad joined with another Japanese girl in wrting a letter to Imai.

At this point a sensation was caused by Attorney Pierce challenging the correctness of the interpretation. In-terpreter No. 2 was then asked for his PERSONAL.

At this juncture Mr. Pierce began his cross-examination, which developed a store of unexpected confessions. Kiku admitted that she had signed a letter written to lami, and laier confessed that she had also written one. She concluded her tale by saying that she wanted to stay where she now was, and pleaded for the court's protection.

The court concluded the trial by instructing the Japanese malden as to her rights in this country. The writ was then quashed and the costs taxed against Imai. At this Kiku departed with Mrs. Judge and her girl friend, who came to this country with her and who is now employed by Mrs. Judge July 7. Vis O. S. L. Round trip from Salt Lake $49.50. Bright's Disease and Diabetes News.

Law Offices of Henley & Costello San Francisco, June 20, 1904. To the legal profession of Salt Lake

I was a witness to the following: About two years ago Prof. Yost of Palo Alto who was in an extreme condition due to advanced Bright's Disease, came to my office. He was attended by his physician who was himself a victim of Diabetes. The object of the visit was to meet a prominent business man who had for months been investigating an alleged cure for Bright's Disease and Diabetés, and hear his verdict. He declared that the claims were fully proven and that the cure had been discovered. Both Prof. Yost and his physician at once adopted the treatment. Within six months both were so well along toward recovery that they considered themselves beyond danger and at this date neither Bright's Disease nor Diabetes hold any terrors for them, and the physician is successfully using the treatment in his practice.

Learning that my old law partner, Judge R. R. Bigelow, for many years Chief Justice of the State of Nevada, had Bright's Disease and that though he had had four or five of our best physicians, yet that he had had to give up practice and was in a serious condition, I lost no time in telling him of the above. It resulted in his complete recovery and he is again back to active practice. As to the curability of chronic Bright's Disease and Diabetes I have no more doubt about it than that I am living. Sincerely yours.
